Morton O. Schapiro, President
Daniel I. Linzer, Provost
Patricia Telles-Irvin, Vice President for Student Affairs
Philip L. Harris, Vice President and General Counsel

Re: Northwestern Sanctuary for Undocumented Immigrants

Dear President Schapiro, Professor Linzer, and Vice Presidents Telles-Irvin and Harris:

We the undersigned faculty, staff, alumni, and students of Northwestern University write in the wake of Donald Trump's election as president of the United States to declare our commitment to the safety and dignity of all students and workers in our community. We petition the university to declare Northwestern a sanctuary for undocumented students, workers, and their families.

Mr. Trump has declared his intention upon taking office to immediately begin deportation proceedings against millions of undocumented immigrants in the United States, and to rescind the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) that provides relief for deportation for hundreds of thousands of young people in the United States, including many Northwestern students. If these policies are enacted, they will prove disastrous, subjecting students and workers who are integral to our community to punitive measures, and countering Northwestern's stated commitment to "the personal and intellectual growth of its students in a diverse academic community."

We are dismayed at the wave of hatred that has swept across the nation since the election, including threats of deportation against Latina/o youth, bullying of Muslim and LGBT youth, incendiary graffiti and vandalism, and hateful comments directed at students of color on our own campus. In light of very real and immediate threats faced by members of our community, as well as the environment of fear that the election has created, we ask the university to take the following steps:

- Issue a public statement reaffirming the university's commitment to support and protect all of its students and workers, regardless of their citizenship status, religion, ethnicity, or national origin;
- Reaffirm current admission and financial aid policies regarding undocumented students;
- Guarantee student privacy by refusing to release information regarding citizenship status;
- Take steps to protect the visa status and funding of international students;
- Refuse to comply with federal authorities regarding deportations or immigration raids;
- Reaffirm the university's commitment to create a campus atmosphere of respect by denouncing the hate speech directed at immigrant, minority, and LGBTQ students and workers, and by informing the campus of existing resources for reporting and responding to bias or hate incidents;

- Repair a weakness in current university structure by creating an administrative mechanism for reporting hate and bias incidents to appropriate state and federal agencies.

Only a few months ago, President Schapiro co-authored an op-ed in the *Los Angeles Times* defending the principle of safe spaces on university campus. And months earlier he declared Northwestern's commitment to offering undocumented students the same support offered to its citizen students. Northwestern now has an opportunity to put those words into action by creating a legal sanctuary for its students. Doing so would not only show Northwestern's commitment to our own campus, but also our solidarity with local communities, as Evanston and Chicago have both affirmed their status as sanctuary cities. While we believe that people of good will can hold diverging political beliefs, we also believe that the safety of students and workers is absolutely essential to create the climate of free inquiry that the university should foster. This is not a time to wait and see how federal policies develop. To the contrary, it is a time to unflinchingly affirm our core values and to work proactively to safeguard the wellbeing of our community with every resource at our disposal. We ask that the university act now to fulfill its mission of "sustaining a safe and healthy Northwestern community."
